THE TRIBUNE.

FRIDAY, - - - OCTOBER 24, 1856.

MASONIC.—The Grand Lodge of Kentucky, at its recent session in Lexington, elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: T. H. Wise, of Covington, Grand Master; Philip Swigert, of Frankfort, Deputy Grand Master; Robert Morris, Senior Grand Warden; H. T. Wilson, Junior Grand Warden.

CALIFORNIA.—We received yesterday, says the New Orleans Crescent, a private letter from an intelligent and influential citizen of California, whom we know to be thoroughly posted in regard to the upper and under currents of the political events in the golden State. He concluded his letter with these words: "California is certain for Fillmore and Donelson."

A DIVIDEND PARTY.—The N. Y. Daily News, the organ of the "Hards," has put at the head of its columns for May, Mr. Libby. The Dry Book, the organ of the "half-shells," has put up Fernando Wood. The News is very severe upon the opponents of Mr. Libby, and the Dry Book gives the other side of the house "particular fits." New York is lost to Buchanan, and the leading Democrats there openly acknowledge it. Millard Fillmore will carry the State by an immense majority.

POPULATION OF THE WORLD.—The latest and apparently the fairest estimate of the population of the world, makes it eleven hundred and fifty millions, viz:—Pagans, six hundred and seventy-six millions; Christians, three hundred and twenty millions; Mahomedans, one hundred and forty millions; and Jews, fourteen millions. Of Christians, the Church of Rome numbers one hundred and seventy millions; the Greek and Eastern Churches, sixty millions; and Protestants, ninety millions.

Poetical.

For the Kentucky Tribune.

Farewell Stanzas.

BY A. FULMERSON, JR.

Respectfully inscribed to Miss M. E. F. of Boyle.
Maid of the auburn locks and eyes of blue!
Maid of the guileless heart so warm and true!
Maid of the soul where best emotions dwell—
Maid of the peerless brow, farewell, farewell!

Star of my night and sunbeam of my day,
How oft I dream of thee when far away!
Like moonlight on some peaceful river's breast,
Thy placid image on my heart shall rest!

Bride of my soul, thy voice's melting tone
Hath taught my heart to love but thee alone,
And when the winds of autumn round me moan,
On every breeze I'll hear its music borne!

Maid of the laughing lip and sylphlike form,
God shield thy childhood's path from every storm!
Be it mine, at least, with him in bliss to dwell!
Maid of my inmost soul, farewell, farewell!

Parting.
Kitty! I'd press you to my heart,
But all such pressures you deprecate—
There's too much cotton, whalebone lace,
'Tween you and I.

I'd only mass the dry goods up,
And make you blubber, sob, and frown,
Beside, I might, oh, and mischance!
Break whalebones down.

Farewell! I'll pray when next we meet,
And never may, if fashions change,
At least that we may come within
Good talking range!

Miscellany.

ILLEGIBLE MANUSCRIPT.—What guessers printers must be! A New York editor, in discounting upon the guess-at-half-of-it style of writing in which many articles are sent to be printed, gives the following amusing specimen. A piece of poetry being him, written in what, at a reasonable distance, seemed to be the following:

"Alone toss'd rolls a tear by Moses,
Many things we mourn by day;
Tom and the shooting Indian chorus,
And scathe their limbs at play."

Knowing, however, that his correspondent was not a fool, he more carefully examined it, and he guesses that the following version is nearer the author's intention:

"I love to stroll at early Morn
Among the new-mown hay;
To mark the spouting Indian corn,
And see the lambs at play."

ROUGH GAMBLING.—A noted villain in Hon. Balie Peyton's district, who was always a hard worker against the Colonel, was observed to be missing on election day.

"What's become of Bill Jones?" asked the candidate, of one of Bill's cronies.

FOREST SCENERY IN SWEDEN.—The road sometimes runs for a vast number of miles in a straight line through one of these forests, and the dreary feelings of the traveller may be easily conceived. The solemn silence may be for hours unbroken by the slightest sound. It happened once that, by the upsetting of a carriage, I was left alone until the driver had ridden back to procure another, and during that time my only fear was that the silence to which I listened should be broken: the fall of a leaf would have terrified me. Sometimes a conflagration occurs, which gives a new and terrible aspect to the scene. These devastating fires are generally the result of accident and carelessness; the dry white moss which covers the ground forms excellent tinder when the woodcutters light their fires or smoke their pipes in the forest. I saw an island—at least all that grew on it—consumed in this way, and a curiously beautiful sight it was, too, burning in the midst of a large and rapidly rushing river.

Some fishermen had gone there, and made a fire and cooked some fish, and eat a dinner, and they set the island on fire, and like a ship at sea, it burned down to the water's edge. In the dead of night, it was a very strange spectacle, a burning mass, so large, so bright, so furious, in the midst of rushing water. The tall, dark firs rising above the flames lit the flames over them, and then descended again, satisfied with their prey, and lowering and lowering, until they were obliged to die because they could destroy no more. And the green isle was a black heap of charcoal, with the waters circling round it.

FIVE THOUSAND MURDERS COMMITTED IN CALIFORNIA IN SIX YEARS.—A San Francisco paper gives the following information, derived from a pamphlet just published in that city:

Taking a portion of the notices of murders that have been published since 1852, and the other evidences that we have on record previous to that time, and since, it will be seen that the number of those who have met an untimely end by murder is truly appalling. The District Attorney of San Francisco, in 1852, stated in a public speech that for the previous four years twelve hundred murders had been committed in the city of San Francisco. Any one conversant with the history of the "Great Pacific Emporium" since that time, will readily agree that crime has not diminished with the increase of population. It was stated on or near the close of the year 1853, by the public press, that for the year just past five hundred murders had been brought to their notice. The compiler of this work feels perfectly safe in saying that not less than five thousand murders have been committed in California within the last six years. I will also here mention, that from the examination of the old files of daily papers, it appears that the accidental deaths have not been less in number than those by murder for the same time.

AN IRISHMAN'S IDEA OF AMERICA.—One of the best definitions of an Irishman's idea of America that we ever saw, is contained in the following extract from "The Fairy Circle," a tale of John Brougham's Irish Echoes.

"Where did 'hacy come from Corney?" inquired Mary.
"Why, from Meriky; where else?" he replied, "that sent us the first pity."
"Long life to it for both, say I!"
"What sort of a place is that, I wonder?"
"Meriky, is it? They tell me it's mighty sizeable, Moll, darlin'. I'm told that you might roll England through it, and it would hardly make a dint in the ground. There's fresh water oceans inside of it that you might drown Ireland in, and save Father Mathew a wonderful sight of trouble; an' as for Scotchland, you might stick it in a corner o' one of their forests, and you would never be able to find it out, except it might be by the smell of whisky. If I had only a trifle of money, I'd go and seek my fortune there."

A jolly old darkey down South, bought himself a new shiny hat, and when it commenced raining, he put it under his coat. When asked why he did not keep his hat on his head, he replied: "De hat's mine; bought him wid my own money; head 'longs to massa; let him take keer his own property."

BE KIND TO YOUR MOTHER.—"What would I give," said Charles Lamb, "to call my mother back to earth, for one day, to ask her pardon upon my knees, for all those acts by which I gave her gentle spirit pain." Remember this, children, and be kind to your mothers.

It was a proverb among the Greeks, that a flatterer who lifts you up to the clouds, has the same motive as the eagle when he raises the tortoise into the air, he wishes to gain something by your fall.

Hail a cab in bad weather and it may come to your assistance; but hail a friend in your adversity, and see what notice he will take of you.

A man who avoids matrimony on account of the cares of wedded life, is compared to one who would amputate a leg to save his toes from corns.

A miser is but a human version of the turnspit dog that toiled every day to roast meat for another person's eating.

The law ruins men, and fashion women.

YOURS AND OURS.—A widower in the neighborhood of Bristol, having three children, married a widow with a like complement of olive branches, and after they had been married six years, they further added to the combined family by three more of their own, making in all nine. When one of the "Tuneful Nine" would be overheard making a noise in the house, it was no uncommon thing for the husband to say:

"That's yours, Mrs. A."
Presently another cry would be heard, when Mrs. A. would retort by exclaiming:
"That's yours, Mr. A."
A third young urchin would then give tongue, when Mr. and Mrs. A. would exclaim with one voice:
"That's ours."

Political.

Political Discussion.

Recently Mr. John M. Botts delivered a very strong and able speech at Taylor's Springs, in Rockingham county, Virginia, in favor of Mr. Fillmore. He was replied to by Mr. Harris, the Democratic elector for that district. During his speech Mr. Harris several times alluded to Mr. Botts's opinion on the subject of the power of Congress to legislate for the Territories, and "dared and defied" that gentleman to answer whether he and Martin Van Buren did not occupy the same position upon that question.

Mr. Botts rose, and remarked, that as he was not a candidate for the Presidency, his opinions were not in issue in this canvass. He would, however, ask the gentleman who had propounded the inquiry, whether he considered an admission of the constitutional power of Congress to legislate on the subject of slavery in the Territories an insuperable objection to a candidate for the Presidency?

Mr. Harris. I certainly do.
Mr. Botts. Then you, of course, would not vote for me if I were a candidate, and held the opinion?

Mr. Harris. No; and, so help me heaven, I would vote for no man for any office who subscribed to so dangerous and odious a doctrine!

Mr. Botts. Very well, sir; my opinion is not a matter of vital importance in this canvass, but I will read for your especial edification and instruction, the following declaration:

"Having urged the adoption of the Missouri Compromise, the inference is inevitable that Congress, in my opinion, possesses the power to legislate upon the subject of slavery in the Territories. This sovereign power in Congress must, from its nature, be exclusive."

I quote from the "Sanford letter" of James Buchanan!

Such a outburst of laughter we have never heard as followed this "climber," and Mr. Harris stood covered with confusion, looking for a few moments, as a lady present expressed it, "as if he had an attack of lock-jaw." "You are pledged against Buchanan," came up from all parts of the crowd.

After a few minutes, the Democratic orator stammered out that Mr. Buchanan's real opinion was that Congress had the power to legislate for the protection of slavery, but no power to legislate for its prohibition.

"Indeed!" rejoined Mr. Botts, "when you think the power exists to legislate on one side of the question, but not on the other! Mr. Buchanan will hardly thank you for that compliment to his intelligence. Will you be so kind as to point out the particular clause of the constitution from which you derive this novel and brilliant conception of yours?"

Mr. Harris had, of course, no answer to make.

When Mr. Harris sat down, Mr. Botts took the stand, and told Mr. H. that the difference between the opinions of Martin Van Buren and the rest of Mr. Buchanan's supporters at the North and himself, consisted in the important distinction that, whilst they urge the exercise by Congress of the right to adopt the Wilmot Proviso, and to prevent the further extension of slavery, he (Mr. Botts) had always strenuously opposed the exercise of any such power. Mr. Harris had urged as a serious objection to Mr. Fillmore that he voted against Mr. Botts's resolution of censure upon Giddings.

"Are you aware, sir," said Mr. B., "that in your efforts to establish Mr. Fillmore's unsoundness upon this question, the painful necessity was forced upon you, of proving my fidelity to the South, as the author and proposer of that very resolution you so strangely condemn him for voting against; and that you involved yourself in the unenviable dilemma of approving my course at the moment you were attempting to excite prejudice against my position on the Southern question? But, I will inquire if you will only not tell the people of Rockingham about it,—that Governor Wise voted just as Mr. Fillmore did!" Amidst the laughter and applause consequent upon this last reply, Mr. Botts concluded.—Richmond American.

We commend the following short article to the Henry Clay Whigs who now support James Buchanan:

A STRANGE ANIMAL.—The present canvass for the Presidential office, has revealed a new sort of animal that we do not recollect to have seen described in history, tale, or song—a sort of

"Lawless, livery woolsey brother,
Half one order, half another;
A creature of amphibious nature,
A beast on land, a fish in water."

The animal to which we allude, is called an "Old-Line Henry Clay Buchanan Whig," and we venture to say that no such creature was ever before heard of in this or any other country. Alluding to the liver a few days ago, we understand a friend of ours at Cedar Hill in Anson county, remarked that he had heard of many strange animals, such as the Woolley Horse, the Kangaroo, the Gyasutus, and the great Boe Hoo that it took two ships to bring from the Feejee Islands, but never before had the world produced such a zoological wonder as the "Old-Line Henry Clay Buchanan Whig."

The nearest approximation to the new order that we recollect to have heard anything about, is presented in the person of one Caleb Cushing, Attorney General of the United States, and an influential member of the Pierce Cabinet. He is described by one who knows him well, as double-sexed (hermaphrodite) in politics, with a hinge in the knee, that bends when thrift is likely to follow fawning.—Fayette Argus.

A Union Battle in Virginia.

Hon. John Minor Botts has taken the stump in Virginia for the Union, and he appears to battle with great energy against Gov. Wise and others who have been recently uttering volcanic threats of dissolving the Union, in case Buchanan should not be elected. Mr. B. recently addressed a meeting of two thousand persons at Petersburg, and in the course of his lengthy effort, he thus alludes to Wise's charges that he was a traitor, and that he would accept office under Fremont:

"Mr. Wise, forgetting so far his high office, calls me a traitor, when he knew that the question of my pardon, if convicted, might come before him who had already prejudged the case. He has the boldness to denounce, but lacks the courage to do what he calls on the Mayor of the city to do for him—arrest me—as if I had committed treason against the Commonwealth of Richmond! He forgets it is his business to arrest me for treason—that he is liable to be impeached for neglect of duty—his sworn, solemn duty. Yet he feels at liberty to play the braggart—dishonoring his office and fomenting discord by writing letters to Forney—it was Forney, I believe—that the election of Fremont would be the cause for a dissolution of the Union. Well, Mr. Mayor, I am at your service. All I ask is that Scott and Wise shall prosecute me and I shall have the privilege of defending myself."

As to the charge that Botts would accept office under Fremont, he said:

"When John Tyler shook those thirty pieces of silver at me I shook my fist in his face. He shook them at Wise, and Wise pocketed them!"

In regard to the braggart threats of lynching and hanging so freely made against him by the Richmond Enquirer, Mr. Botts said that he might be overcome, as he never carried arms, but the difficulty was to find some one to head the line to attack him. He read the definition of treason, as decided in the Burr case, to show that some overt act was necessary to constitute the crime. His treason, he said, consisted in defending the integrity of the Union; and he quoted the concluding passage of his speech, as follows:

"Let me tell them that when they attempt it, (to dissolve the Union,) for no better cause than has yet been threatened, I for one, will meet them at Philippi, and on that field they will find me kneeling at no other altar than the altar of the Union, worshipping at no other shrine than the shrine of the Constitution, and fighting under no other flag than the stars and stripes of the United States."

This Confederacy, says the Alexandria Gazette, once broken, can never again be restored. Two separate Republics will spring up, and in each will be the same elements of destruction that led to the fall of the first. There will be sectional interests and collisions in both alike, and under demagogues and factionists—ambitious aspirants and fanatical agitators—the new Republics will be themselves divided and subdivided, until at last every county will be a little State, with its Executive Legislature and Judicial organizations. Before this stage of disintegration is reached, however, there will be an extinction of all free institutions. Wars and conquests will swell the pages of American history, and, as in Greece and Rome of old, military chieftains and purple-robed tyrants will hold their sway over the land of Washington, and of Franklin, and of Hancock, and of the illustrious sages, heroes, and patriots who first gave to man a government which recognized and secured his rights.

This dire calamity may be brought about by the election of a sectional candidate! Is it not the duty then of every true patriot to frown down every thing like sectionalism, and strive to perpetuate the Union and secure the rights of the States by electing a man who stands between the rival sections and the country—who plants himself upon the national battlefields, and over whose head waves the proud and glorious flag, upon whose folds are inscribed in letters of living light, the CONSTITUTION and the UNION "NOW AND FOREVER—ONE AND INSEPARABLE!"

"VAN BUREN AND SOUTHERN RIGHTS!"—A friend suggests that this ought to be one of the rallying cries of the Bogus Democracy. Old Martin is the principal defender of Southern Rights under the constitution and the Kansas act, in the State of New York. His Southern friends ought to be told that he is their "rump card" in New York and deserves an occasional complimentary notice.

DANVILLE:

Friday, Oct. 24, 1856.

BEAR IN MIND.

That the Presidential Election will be held on TUESDAY, the 4th day of November.

WOOD! WOOD!!

A number of our patrons have agreed to pay their subscription, &c., in wood. We would respectfully inform such that we are now needing the wood, and are ready to receive it. We hope they will bring it in immediately, otherwise we shall present our accounts for the money.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

We have on our books, a large number of accounts, which though small, when taken separately, make in the aggregate quite a large sum, and by the delay of many of our patrons in settling up, this sum is annually growing larger. We hope those of our friends who have already received their accounts, or who shall hereafter receive them, will consider themselves particularly and urgently called upon to pay up, as we very much need the money to meet our engagements. We sincerely trust that all concerned, will consider this matter, and promptly do us justice by settling the amounts of their indebtedness.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

Dr. L. L. PINKERTON will preach in the Reform Church in this place, on Sunday morning next at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at half past 6 o'clock. The meeting will be protracted during the week. Dr. P. will probably be assisted by other ministers.

HAWK'S FURNITURE SALE—Continued.—Mr. G. W. HAWK'S sale of Furniture will be continued on Wednesday next, 29th inst., at which time he will offer to bidders, a fine and fashionable variety. His assortment is still very full, embracing much of his finest work.

COUNTY COURT DAY.—Last Monday, our October County Court day, was the occasion of even a more than usual gathering of the people from this and the adjoining counties. Our streets were thronged, and the "going, going" of a half dozen auctioneers, and the baying, neighing, bleating and lowing with which the town resounded, plainly proclaimed that Danville was rapidly growing in importance, as an inviting market for the sale of stock. County Court days are a great institution. "Long may they wave."

PORTER'S SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.—This truly interesting journal, has already taken its position as one of the leading sporting papers of the world. It is published weekly, each number containing 16 pages. The editor is the great original W. T. PORTER, formerly the life of the "New York Spirit." Mr. P., is assisted by GEORGE WILKES, a distinguished literary gentleman. Terms of the paper, $3 per annum in advance. Address, "Porter's Spirit of the Times," New York.

NO BETTER TIME.—The present for those who wish a good Ambrotype or Daguerreotype to have them taken. The weather is favorable, and a better picture can be taken in pretty, fair weather, such as the present, than when it is dark and cloudy. Mr. WHEELER is still on hand, and is filling all orders for pictures, in the very best style of the art. "Make hay while the sun shines." Rooms over Carpenter's and White's Auction Store.

STAGING FROM THE LARGE NUMBER of persons who went from this place to the American Barbecue at Stanford, on yesterday, there must have been an immense crowd present on that occasion. Hon. J. F. BELL, THOS. M. GREEN, F. T. FOX, and W. C. ANDERSON, Esqrs., were in the delegation from this place, and we presume distinguished speakers from other points were also on hand.

Col. THOMAS L. JONES, Assistant American Elector for the State at large, is to speak in this place, on Monday, November 3d, at 1 o'clock. Col. Jones is making a most popular and gallant canvass. Our citizens may expect a rousing, cheering speech from him—just such a one as we want on the eve of the great battle. Don't forget to turn out and hear him.

THE BASKET-MEETING TO-MORROW.—Our readers will all remember that the great American rally and basket-meeting at Parkville, in this county, is to come off to-morrow. Let everybody make his arrangements to go, and by all means take his wife, sweetheart, or some pretty cousin, and a clothes-basket full of provisions with him. Let it be the meeting of the canvass—a meeting which shall foreshadow the increased American majority which little Boyle will roll up on Tuesday week.

THE ELECTION.—But a little over one week remains, ere the people of this great confederacy will be called upon to exercise their right as freemen, in the selection of the Chief Magistrate of the nation. In view of the near approach of the great contest, every American should feel called upon to bestir himself, and make a profitable use of the few remaining days. Let him not only make his own arrangements to be at the polls and vote, but let him exhort his American neighbors to do likewise. Let not an American vote be lost—bring in the sick, the aged—all, who are friendly to Fillmore and Donelson. Our opponents are making the most desperate efforts to carry the State—they have vast sums of money staked on the vote of Kentucky—and we have reason to believe that their leaders are preparing for an attempt to carry out a most glaring and stupendous fraud, in order to accomplish by corruption, what they cannot hope to do fairly. The vote of Kentucky is as certain for Fillmore, as it ever was for Henry Clay—provided the friends of Fillmore do their duty. They can, if they will, prevent illegal voting, and they should be on the watch at every precinct, in every county, not only for "black carpet-bag men," but for fraudulent voters of every kind, whether imported or home-made, foreign or domestic.

THE LATE ELECTIONS.—The full official returns of the elections held on the 14th in Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, have not yet been received, and of course the estimated majorities are all we can give from those States. In Ohio, the Black Republicans have a large majority, probably an increase over the vote given for Chase for Governor, last year. In Pennsylvania, the Buchanan ticket has been successful by about 6,000 majority, and in Indiana by about 5,000. In both of the last named States, the Buchanan party made the most desperate exertions—votes were imported by the wholesale from the adjoining States, and in Pennsylvania especially, money was used to an unprecedented extent. Thousands, it is said, of the Fillmore men of Indiana, either refused to vote, or cast their votes for the Buchanan ticket, while 20,000 Quakers of Pennsylvania, who are for Fillmore, declined voting at all in the local election of that State. The small majorities which the Buchanan party have received, are far from what they expected. They have been virtually defeated, and in November, when their thousands of imported voters will be required in their own States—when the people will be voting for Fillmore—the bogus Democracy may look for nothing but a complete rout of their forces—horse, foot, and dragons. The Fillmore men have nothing to discourage them. They should be only stimulated to still greater and more untiring exertions, for our gallant standard-bearers.

Fillmore men! stand to your arms! be true to your men and your principles. Our leaders are as noble patriots as ever bore the standard of the Union. Our success is necessary to the establishment of domestic peace, and the ascendancy of our principles is requisite to the preservation and perpetuity of our glorious institutions. We have in opposition to us, a sectional party in the North, and a party in the South, many of the leaders of which are ever now plotting the disunion of the States. What can the country expect from such factionists—what could be the result of the success of either, save continued agitation and civil strife? Be firm, then, and true, ye friends of Fillmore and the Union, for as sure as the sun shines above, so sure is it, that the country can hope for peace and quiet by the election of no other candidate than Millard Fillmore. He once guided the ship safely through storm and peril, and is capable to perform the same service again.

WELLINGTON HARLAN and T. Z. MORROW, Esqrs., the American and Democratic Electors for this county, spoke at the Court House on Monday evening. Our engagements were such that we heard very little of their speeches. These two young gentlemen have made a thorough canvass of the county, and both have exhibited much zeal in the discharge of their duty as electors. We think we can safely say that Mr. Harlan has made a gallant and successful defence of the American party, its candidates and principles, at every point. He is a talented young speaker and gives promise of much usefulness in the great and glorious work of politically regenerating our country.

The result of the recent elections in Pennsylvania and Indiana, demonstrated one thing very clearly, and that is, that Fremont is out of the fight for the Presidency. His supporters can no longer entertain a hope of his election. The Buchanan party can now cease their urgent appeal to the Americans to vote for Buchanan to defeat Fremont. The friends of Fillmore can all vote for the patriot of their choice, without having "Fremont! Fremont!" sounded in their ears at every turn.

THE SOUND NORTHERN DEMOCRACY.—The people have already been warned against putting any faith in the plea of Southern Democracy, that the Northern wing of that party is sound on the slavery question. The evidence accumulates every day, to prove that wherever Northern Democracy can gain anything by it, they eclipse even Black Republicanism itself, in their loud professions of Abolitionism, and do all in their power to prove the Buchanan party the true anti-slavery party of the country. In Ohio, previous to the recent election, Democratic Mass Meetings were called, and the following is an extract from one of their bills:

THE UNION!

BUCK AND BRECK.

TO THE RESCUE!

There will be a meeting of the friends of the Union, those who are OPPOSED TO LEGALIZING SLAVERY IN THE TERRITORIES, and who are opposed to making all children born of slave mothers in those Territories for the next two years slaves for life, this evening, Saturday, September 20, at Wittich's Hall.

In another bill, for a Democratic meeting at South Bloomfield, in the same State, the following language was used:

FRIENDS OF THE UNION!

BUCK AND BRECK.

RALLY! RALLY!!

The friends of the Union and the Constitution will hold a grand Mass Meeting at South Bloomfield on Saturday, the 27th inst.

COME UP AND HELP ARREST THE SPREAD OF SLAVERY OVER THE WEST TERRITORIES OF KANSAS AND NEBRASKA!!!! The Black Republicans in Congress have voted to pollute those Territories with slavery. Then come out, and bring your wives, your sons, and your daughters with you, and show these traitors that you feel an interest still in the preservation of the Union.

These meetings were to be addressed by those "champions of Freedom," S. S. Cox, Democratic candidate for Congress, Hon. J. Cradlebaugh, Democratic ex- U. S. Senator, Dr. Edson B. Olds, Democratic ex-member of Congress, and other distinguished members of the "sound" Northern Democratic party.

In Pennsylvania, too, we find the "sound" party playing the same tune. The Lebanon Advocate, a prominent Buchanan organ, exhorted its party just before the election, to rally, and give

ONE DAY

FOR

LIBERTY AND UNION

AGAINST

SLAVERY AND DISUNION!!!

These are some of the samples of Northern Democracy. What do Southern men think of them? And what do they think of their boasted "soundness" of the Democratic party? In the North wherever such a course will "count," they are boldly advocating the exclusion of slavery from the Territories, and in the South, pro-slavery though they are, they have been deceived by their party zeal, and led to endorse the principles of Squatter Sovereignty, "the best Free-soil measure ever proposed."

THE GALLANT AMERICANS OF PENNSYLVANIA.—The Fillmore State Central Committee of Pennsylvania, have refused most positively to enter into any union whatever with the Fremonters, leaving it a matter of choice to the latter whether they will vote for Fillmore and give the State to him, or by adhering to Fremont, give the State to Buchanan. A few days after this firm and patriotic decision, the disappointed Black Republicans and a few dissatisfied Fremont Americans, held what they called a "Union" Convention at Harrisburg, and formed an electoral ticket.

We are glad to know that the Americans of the Keystone State have utterly repudiated the alliance which was proposed to them. A correspondent of the New York Express writes from Philadelphia, that their action takes the State from Fremont, and will undoubtedly give it to Fillmore. "The Black Republican wire-pullers," (says the same writer,) openly give up the game, and however reluctant, they feel that they will have to go for Fillmore or worse.

MARK THE FACT.—There are, says the Charlottesville American, in Virginia and the rest of the Southern States, thousands of disunionists, ready at any moment and without additional motives to dissolve the Union of these States. There are as many madmen in the North. We care not where these disunionists may live, whether North or South, we defy any man to point out a single one who supports Fillmore. They are all for Buchanan or Fremont.

"ADZACKLY!—THEIR'S OUR SENTIMENTS."—Says the Covington Journal: "whenever a Northern man sets himself up as the peculiar friend and guardian of Southern rights, and professes a great zeal than Southern men themselves, he may be set down as either knave or fool. The South has had enough of profession from Northern men with Southern principles."

The American Basket Meeting at Parkville to-morrow. Go, everybody. Let

"Each valley, each sequestered glen,
Muster its little herds of men,
From the gray sire, whose trembling hand,
Can hardly buckle on his band,
To the raw boy, whose shaft and bow
Are yet scarce terror to the crow.
Still gather round the altar,
A voice more loud, a side more strong;
Till at the rendezvous they stand."

To the American People.

A PATRIOTIC ADDRESS—READ IT.—The American State Societies of New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Kentucky have issued the following address:

Conscious of the danger which now menaces the institutions of our country, and feeling more certain than ever that the safety of the American Union must depend on a full and patriotic support of the whole people, and seeing that the present moment calls loudly for a prompt and decided movement, we appeal to every lover of his country to come with, and sustain us in our action.

Our platform is our whole country. Our principles are the people's good, and our action is the defense of the Union. United in action, we must depend on a full and patriotic support of the whole people, and seeing that the present moment calls loudly for a prompt and decided movement, we appeal to every lover of his country to come with, and sustain us in our action.

JOHN VAN BUREN.—John Van Buren has been making a political speech at Chicago, and John and his speech are thus taken off by the Chicago Journal—Prince John was the undertaker who assisted in the burial of Cass in 1848, when his body was conveyed home by the way of the Lakes. He is doing the same thing now for Buchanan, only he is burying him alive. If Old Buck can stand such speeches as that of John Van Buren, he has got less Democratic blood in his veins than there is in a turnip.

PERPETUAL MOTION.—A joiner in Edinburgh, Scotland, has communicated to one of the newspapers the process by which, he alleges, he has discovered the long sought for perpetual motion. The invention is stated to be real self-moving power, which may be constructed of a size sufficient to drive all kinds of machinery at no greater expense than a little oil. According to the inventor's description, the machine is a wheel propelled by weights, the weights rising when the wheel turns to the angle of forty-five, and leaving three-fourths of the wheel empty. There are four weights or balls, two of which are always working the wheel, and the other two are on the center or axle, ready to fill the place of the others when they bring the wheel to the plumb, and before it loses its power. The one ball at the bottom rises to the axle when the other comes to the top, and so on.

BEWARE OF THE INFAMOUS TRICK!—We have positive information from Washington City to the following effect: "Hon. Charles James Faulkner, the deer of the dirty work of the Democratic party at Washington, during the present canvass, had prepared a pamphlet, which is to be placed in the hands of the Sage-Night leaders in every town, county, village and election precinct, with directions to put a copy in the possession of every Fillmore man a few days previous to the election in November, which pamphlet represents that Mr. Fillmore has withdrawn and calls upon all to go cheerfully for Buck. Mr. Fillmore is also abused and vilified in a fashion peculiar to Faulkner and his lying committee men."

Let the friends of Fillmore and the Union every where look out for this base and infamous "trick," let them talk about it—circulate it—and let it be universally known that this piece of rascality is to be attempted, so that the whole country may be "forewarned and forearmed."—Memphis Eagle and Enquirer.

ANTI-FREEZING CHAIN PUMPS.
LIGHTNING RODS.

E. A. COX & CO., 6 miles from Danville, on the Lebanon Turnpike, are still engaged in the manufacture and sale of the celebrated CHAIN PUMPS, of which they have sold and put up a large number, in Danville and the surrounding country. These Pumps have become generally known, and a full description is unnecessary. The simplicity of their construction frees them from liability to easily get out of order, and should any derangement occur in them, it can be quickly and easily remedied. They never freeze up, and are in every respect the best Pump in use.
We are also prepared to put up LIGHTNING RODS, warranted of good quality and perfect conductors. Orders solicited.
Orders for Pumps or Rods can be left at the Post Office, Printing Office, or at Weatherford & Lee's Grocery Store.
